SCHOOL SPIRIT

Principal
Frederick W. Savage

The school year 1968-69 brought with it many changes. The most important perhaps may be the entry of North Lambton Secondary School into the Lambton County system of education. The future looks bright because for the first time all students will have equal opportunity in education.

We are proud of our school and also of all the people who make up our academic community. A vigorous well-qualified staff, enthusiastic student interest and excellent local support will make this year outstanding in our history. Over the years, we have learned to trust each other, and our students have benefited. Their successes and good morale bear out good relations of trust.

May I wish all our graduates, and those still continuing in the pursuit of knowledge, greater success, happiness and a continuing keen interest in their fellow-man.

VICE PRINCIPAL

The school year has been a most memorable one for North Lambton Secondary School and this is due, in a large part, to greater student participation in new school activities such as the "Save A Child" Walkathon and A Winter Carnival Weekend. The excellent coverage of these and other activities in the Yearbook will therefore make it a memorable one in years to come.

To all students it is my hope that you will take advantage of all the educational and extra-curricular opportunities available to you in our school, and be able to refer back to your years at N.L.S.S. as the "best years of my life".

Special congratulations to Janet Meerburg, Keith Douglas, Margaret King, Fredrica Teetzel and the yearbook staff for a job well done. You spent many hours compiling, assembling and rewriting material and the finished product must make you very proud indeed.

The week of September 30th to October 4th went down in the annals of history here at N.L.S.S. It was the first time for an event called School Spirit Week. The entire week was devoted to the cause of getting students involved and generally excited over this school.

The highlights of School Spirit Week were competition for the best decorated classroom and a walkathon to raise money for the "Save a Child" fund. The walkathon took place on Saturday, October 5th; of the 273 participants in the walkathon who started, 174 finished the 26-mile route. The total amount collected from sponsors of the walkers was $4400.

Editorial

After many hours of work and in a year filled with variety and special events, our staff proudly presents "Aurea Vincula 1969". One great achievement, School Spirit, was so displayed in our school year that I hope it stands out as the most memorable feature in our yearbook. May this book be cherished particularly by the many proud students who have made their school something special. I hope also that Aurea Vincula may serve as a happy memory to the graduates who have finished their last year in this school.

Although many people have helped with this yearbook, either directly or indirectly, and I thank all, certainly to the following I extend my sincere thank-you: Keith Douglas, Co-Editor; Margaret King, Assistant Editor; Fredrieka Teetzel, Assistant Editor; Beth Wright and Linda Fraleigh, typists. Special thanks are due to Mr. Godbolt, Business Manager and his advertising committee, 11D for their fine work. Also thanked are the staff advisors, Mrs. MacLean, Miss Lewis, Mrs. Brydon, Mrs. Gratton and Mr. Sturdy for their aid.

My successors in the future years will discover that yearbook editing and completion is a mighty task which can use up many hours and much energy. But the reward for the time spent will lie in the knowledge that you have had the honour of creating something of lasting worth. A yearbook will retain all your cherished memories forever, and often you will look back to your good old school days.

Your Editor
Janet Meerburg.

PREFECTS

In 1968/69 N.L.S.S. again continued its prefect system. The present system resembles the original only slightly. No longer are the prefects simply a police system. They are attempting to become a communication line between the administration and the students. In the future we hope to improve this aspect.

The year 1968/69 saw some changes and accomplishments by the prefect system. For the first time the prefects had a representative on the Student Council. Also it was prefects who initiated the noon-hour use of the gymnasium for basketball and gymnastics.

I would like to thank the staff and students of our school for their co-operation during the past year. I hope that you will continue to support the prefects and help to improve the system so that it can truly become useful in developing better communications between the staff and students.

STUDENT'S COUNCIL

We have just undergone the experience of another year and have emerged, some to try new and uncharted ground, some to continue in the same path, and some to retread the same leg of the journey. Whichever of these categories contains us, we have derived something from this year, for it has been a year and a good one at that: an invigorating school spirit week, a Winter Weekend of enjoyable competition, a triumphant curling team, two successful stage productions, an interesting and well-organized yearbook, and many other sources of enjoyment have filled it to the brim.

If from a year of our lives we have learned nothing of value to ourselves, we don't know how to recognize the good of the contributions our experience makes to our thinking. We have had a chance to test our abilities, and to improve our capabilities, and most of us have taken advantage of these opportunities. It is now up to us to gather and try to understand the worth of these experiences and to apply them to our thinking as best we can. In this way this year can become a stepping-stone to maturity and transmit the knowledge of ourselves that we have gained from it.

THE EYE AND WHY

The second year of the school paper at N.L.S.S. proved to be one of change. After the original staff advisor, Mr. Waite, left the school Mr. G. Ivanisko took his place.

The editor, John Roder, decided that he had too many tasks on his time and handed over the co-editorship to Dave Lester and myself. A little later, Dave decided that I could handle the job myself, and I have continued as editor, ably assisted by Bob Smith.

The name "Eye and Why", submitted by Cyril Yanchula, was chosen in a contest as the name for our publication which appeared weekly in the pages of the Forest Standard thanks to the co-operation of Mr. Boyd, its owner-editor.

The paper has obtained a semi-independency from the student council, maintaining its own bank account from sales and advertising funds, but it is still struggling to repay the council for the camera purchased through its funds.

Along with such regular columns as "Tip o' the Hat" and "Math Corner" the "Eye and Why" served to keep students and area readers alert to the talent of the students, current affairs in the school, and upcoming events.

BEYOND LIFE'S GATEWAY

There's an open gate
At the end of the road
Through which each must go alone,
And there in a light we cannot see
Our Father claims His own;
Beyond the gate our loved one
Finds happiness and rest
And there is comfort
In the thought
That a loving God knows best.

SCHOOL NURSE

The school nurse for N.L.S.S. as well as for some other area schools is Mrs. J.A. Kneale, a resident of Grand Bend. She is a graduate with a Public Health Degree from the University of Western Ontario.

The purpose of the school program of which Mrs. Kneale is a part is to promote physical and mental well being, and to prevent disease. This is accomplished through the school medium by developing in them an idea of their responsibility for their own health and the health of others in society.

The Key Club is a service club for boys from the tenth grade up. Although it is similar to other clubs in the school in that it operates under the school's regulations and it draws members from the student body, yet it is uniquely different in that it is sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club.

The N.L.S.S. Key Club has to its best advantage fulfilled and had a successful year – it represented the school well in both the Forest and Thedford Fairs by placing a float in the parades, there was also a Key Club Involvement Week during School Spirit Week and finally there was the Car Rally which was a smashing success.

This has been a very successful year in the Key Club and in conclusion one can say that one only gets out of an organization the benefit of the effort which one has contributed to it.

O. A. L. C.

Gayle DeSchutter

Last summer from July 2nd to 15th I attended O.A.L.C. as a representative of North Lambton. The purpose of this camp is to develop leadership qualities through the medium of athletics. Every second thought was of evaluating – evaluating a lesson in basketball, an exercise in gymnastics or a stroke in aquatics. By all this evaluating we were able to understand more fully the qualities of a good and successful leader.

Unlike most camps, O.A.L.C. was more of a summer school for future leaders. Each day there was a rigid timetable to follow. All the subjects were athletics, such as tennis, archery, basketball and gymnastics. All the aquatics were performed in Lake Chouchiching where the camp was situated.

Although much of the day was allotted to teaching and being taught lessons, there was time also for Leadership Planning courses. The L.P. sessions often took on the forms of volleyball matches, campfires and folk dancing. Even so, there were at least four hours each day of free time.

The first few days were exciting and a novelty, but by the middle of the course, most of the two hundred girls wanted to return home. Imagine getting out of bed on a chilly morning at 7:30 a.m. and taking swimming lessons! The camp began to appear more and more like a regimental school – dog tags were given to everyone and to be caught without one was disastrous.

Even so, by the end of the two weeks, all the hardships were forgotten and only the rewarding memories of such a unique experience were retained. The last day arrived among tears and sad farewells. Although happy to be on our way home, one sad thought lingered in our minds – only once are you allowed to attend O.A.L.C.

COURTESY OF FOREST STANDARD

Best actress was Sandy Burkhart, best actor was Bill Totten.

Excerpts from a review by John Roder in the Forest Standard, December 11, 1968.

"Being a grade 13 student I have seen in the past four years all the musicals, plays and variety shows the school has sponsored, and with respect to make-up, acting, scenery and stage props "Children of the Moon" far exceeded in excellence any previous efforts. Mrs. MacLean's direction was obvious as the actors did a commendable job of performing their respective roles.

"In many respects the plot was good allowing ample opportunity for humour in the character of Thomas, the butler, played by Bill Totten; the wisdom and complacency of old age, portrayed in Madame Atherton, played by Sandy Burkhart; the emotions and indecision of youth as shown by Jane Atherton, played by Carol Kernohan; the obstinacy of overbearing mothers portrayed in Laura Atherton, acted by Janet Lohead; the integrity of the medical profession shown in Dr. Wetherell, played by Bob Smith; the eccentricities of superstition in the moon-mad Judge Atherton, played by Kevin LaMarque; and the chivalry and manners of the military men as revealed in the reserved Major Bannister and his sergeant, Danny Maxfield."

"Children of the Moon" marks the final production which Mrs. MacLean will direct at N.L.S.S. and the thanks of the student body go to her for her untiring efforts over the years.

THE CANADIAN SAVE A CHILD FUND

Our sponsorship program was started two years ago as a centennial project and has been kept up by the support of the students. We are supporting six needy children this year:

Grade Nine – SIRETTA PIDERNO
a 10 year old girl from Italy

Grade Ten – ANDREAS BAILAS
a 9 year old boy from Greece

Grade Eleven – PETROS MEINTANIS
an 8 year old boy from Greece

Grade Twelve – SATYANARAYANA K.B. a 14 year old boy from India

Grade Thirteen – YIN FONG TAM
a 13 year old girl from Hong Kong

Staff – SIN CHONG HI
a 14 year old boy from Korea

As an extra gift this year to our adopted children we sent each of them $10.00 for Christmas to enable them to buy clothes and food for themselves and their families.

We receive letters from them quite regularly and always try to answer them. In her last letter Yin Fong Tam told us that she was now finished school and had a job so she asked us if we could support her sister who was four. This is what we are now trying to do.

The co-operation of the students has been very good and we can be proud of our achievement in the last three years.

A PROSE POEM

The sleeper wakes, and,
Gazing dumbly through the single window case,
Sees nothing –
Nothing he expected
Not knowing what he sought.
Instead he sees the pictures in his mind;
A grassy meadow; a woman laughing;
The cold city night, the glare of neon light;
The woods in fall,
Now, the reverie breaks:
A footstep echoes down the hall,
A sudden knowing that
His dreams can only be –
Just dreams
For now he sees the courtyard, the wall,
His fellows milling round,
And remembers that this day is his last.

– Gary Willert

MY DREAM

As today's wishes become power
And tomorrow's future stays untold
I wait silently for my hour
And dread the thought of becoming old.

I reach for it in light and shadow
Turning quickly to run after endless time
In pure vain; tears fall upon my window
And I know that present and future will never rhyme.

Glimpsing life from the corner of my eye
I turn again to grasp life while my heart is still young
Releasing my mind to go free within the sky
Searching for that worldly peace not yet begun.

My emotion overrules my hope profound,
And the cool soft breeze penetrates the night
Thousands of ears listen to voices without sound
And then I see my dream slip slowly out of sight.

My dream will never weaken because of sadness or pain
But each hour will still drift by not completely whole
My mind will grow tired though, because of the strain
And I like others will be forced to live in sanities soul.

LIFE

The World may be an habitants of troubles,
And worries may rule your way,
But let not the problems of our time
Fulfill your life with grief.
For Life is a mere passing,
And you but an instance,
So make your moment a happy one.
Be sorry for what you did
Not for what you didn't do,
If no effort is ever put forth
Then no effort shall ever be shown
For Life is an experience encountered only once –
And no matter what tribulations come and pass
Enjoy Life to your fullest –
For it can die out like the wind.

– John Illuck 11 –

THE PACE OF LIVING

The pace of living implies speed to most of us and generally we consider the pace to be too quick. The pace of living today is a way of life. Speed, however, is only a symptom or catalyst to the real ailment; a sense of blindness.

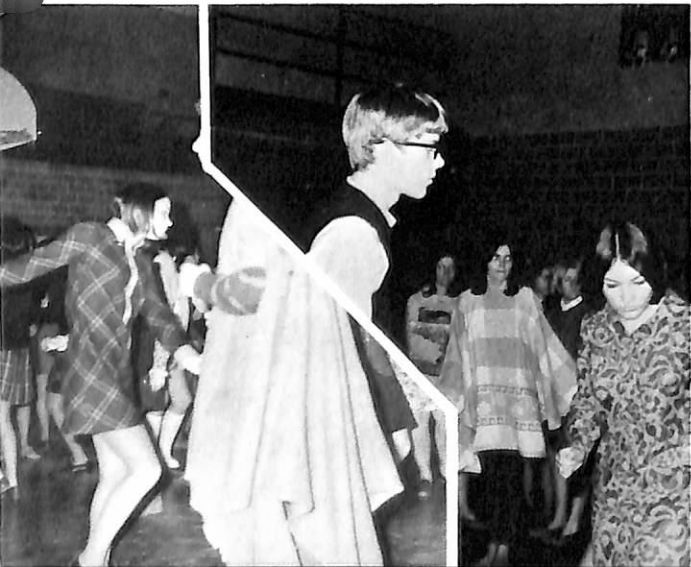

Those astride the pace of living today will advise beginners, as I'm sure those did in previous generations, to first equip yourself for the race ahead. Education must be achieved to the best of your ability and effort, with a determination to win the race, or at least place. To keep pace, you must get a job, strive for that dollar, day and night, be a conscientious worker and look forward to the day when the 40-year race has ended and your pension is the prize.

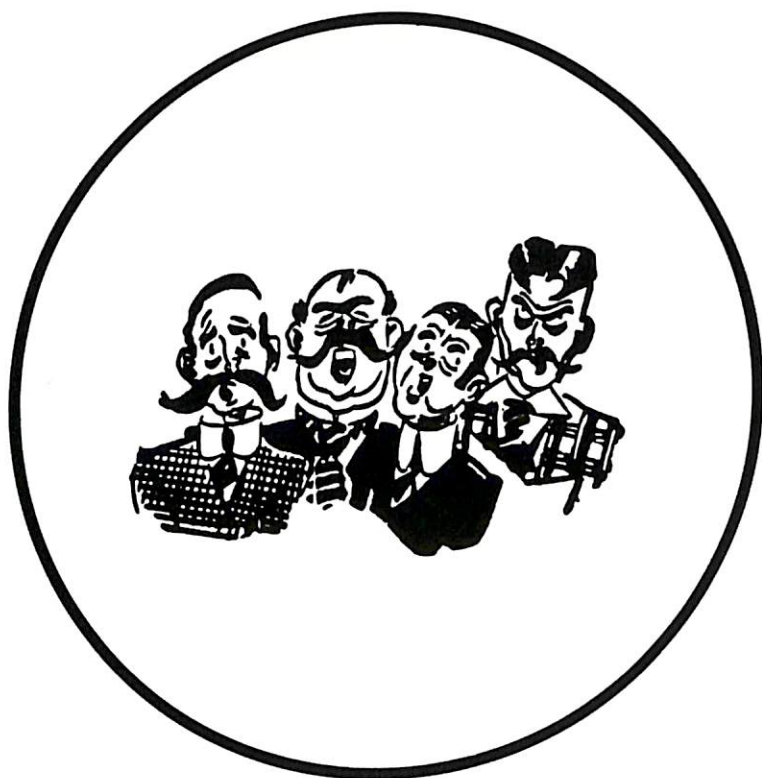

The pace of living is like an expressway uphill. There's room for anyone who wishes to climb. A speed limit is set for the present, but is likely to climb also, as faster more efficient generations are developed. The highway offers no detours, only one way straight ahead with no termination in sight. Slowing down runs the risk of individual failure and falling by the wayside. Speeding up is exhaustive.

To "drop out" from this uphill climb is desirable but not practical. Expediency is the driving force. Being critical and obstinate is understandable, but will not put food in your mouth or put a roof over your head. Yet, it is practical to seek a better existence, to have some foresight as to where you're going.

To go through life blindly with no apparent purpose except to make a living is dismal. Expediency offers no other alternative perhaps. Yet I can't help getting that feeling of being led by the ear.

Terry Clark. 13

STUDENTS HONoured

From July 1st through the 11th, I participated in a student exchange with Manitoba. This Young Voyageur Programme was sponsored by the Federal Government. One student from each high school in South-Western Ontario was chosen and a total number of 24 students participated.

I left by train from Chatham on July 1st and travelled to Toronto, Sudbury, Capreol and through Northern Ontario to Winnipeg. After spending a while in Winnipeg touring the historical sites, I flew to Flin-Flon in northern Manitoba. The young voyageurs were billeted in homes and from this centre they saw the major mines, industries and sites of Northern Saskatchewan and Manitoba. District branches of the Kiwanis, Rotary, I.O.D.E. and the legion sponsored lunches and activities.

On July 11th the Voyageurs returned to Chatham after having an unforgettable, excitement packed trip to the Canadian West.

BERTHA MOONS

Anne Holbrook was awarded first place in the Literary Composition contest sponsored by the Royal Canadian Legion, for Ontario High School students. She received first prize of $150.00 from the provincial command, plus an all expense paid trip to Ottawa.

This is a night of reunion, remembrance, and recognition. We remember old friends, former achievements, and emotions of pleasure and regret. In the five years, since I started grade nine, there have been many changes and much progress. No longer can a person claim an education by learning. Education must be a continuous process extending far beyond formal schooling. How we learn is more important, than what we learn. Most of you have some goal – keep reaching for it. Be careful not to fool yourself by setting your goals too low.

I am sure, that I would fail my responsibility to the graduates as their representative, if I did not express their general gratitude. On behalf of my fellow students, I extend a sincere thank you to the administrators who have managed the business end of this institution; to the teachers who have taught and tolerated us during our years here; to the parents who have contributed in so many ways; and to all those others whose efforts have enabled me to look back tonight and observe, "It was a very good year."

'S WINTER

A great success! This is how you would have to describe the outcome of Snoopy's Winter Weekend.

On Friday night, the variety show was a smash. No Broadway musical could have competed with it for entertainment. After the variety show the snake dance proceeded uptown and returned back to the school. Refreshments were then provided and a Hootenanny followed with the "Arkona Trashcans".

'It was a great weekend'

WEEKEND

The next day all the many events took place and each group area was represented well. One of the most amazing events I have seen for a long time was the auctioning of the organ for the unbelievable price of $20.25.

Saturday night, a dance was held and a record turnout attended. The two bands playing were 'The New Set' and Solid State.
